Navel Oranges

Nurtured on the tree and rushed direct from the grove to their door

NO WAREHOUSES
NO COLD STORAGE

When you order from Countryside, your fruit is still hanging on the tree, soaking up the bright sunshine, growing sweeter and juicier with each passing breeze. Then, the moment it's ready, we pick it by hand, rush it to our packinghouse, select the cream of the crop, and rush it to you. It's a difference you'll appreciate the moment your fruit arrives.

Golden Navel Oranges

Our navels have to pass a strict 6-point inspection

These are the ones that tourists still buy by the bagful at our farm, and take back home to their friends up north. Today, we still treat them with all the care, respect and attention to quality you'd expect from traditional farmers like us. You'll taste that special sunshine in every juicy bite, we promise.
